Intuitive Research and Technology Corporation wins Regional SBA Prime Contractor of the Year Award

HUNTSVILLE, AL – April 20, 2009 – Nominated by the U.S. Army Aviation and Missile Command (AMCOM), Intuitive Research and Technology Corporation (INTUITIVE) was named the Small Business Administration (SBA) Region IV Prime Contractor of the Year for 2009. This award recognizes INTUITIVE's outstanding performance supporting AMCOM systems and functional areas.

“We are honored to receive this award,” stated Rey Almodovar, CEO of INTUITIVE. “We value our customers and strive to provide the best services and products. This award is also a testament to our employees and their outstanding performance. ”

Every year the SBA honors small businesses that have provided the federal government with outstanding goods and services as prime contractors. Prime Contractor of the Year nominations are judged on the following criteria: overall management, financial strength, labor relations, customer interface, technical capabilities, resource utilization, cost performance, delivery performance, quality performance, special achievements, and exceptional results.

Within each of the 10 regions, the SBA chooses one regional business for this award. INTUITIVE, a small, 8(a) business in Huntsville, Alabama, is the winner for Region IV which includes the states of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee. INTUITIVE will compete with other Regional winners for the National Small Business Prime Contractor of the Year Award to be presented at Small Business Week 2009, May 18-19, 2009, in Washington, DC.

Intuitive Research and Technology Corporation (INTUITIVE), a certified 8(a) Company and Small and Disadvantaged Business, specializes in providing technical and analytical services in systems engineering, product development (electrical and mechanical design), test and evaluation, rapid prototyping and technology management, programmatic, production and management solutions to the Department of Defense, government agencies, and commercial companies.
